Appendix III:

Supplemental Qualitative Evaluation Results for Non-Scholars

A1. Welcome Luncheon (Bednash, Fagin, Mezey, Rieder, Shaver)

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Great way to open and generate discussions among all.
  - Nice session-Claire Fagin is such a gracious hostess and inspiring person in our society.
  - Many distractions for 5 speakers with luncheon; people greeting each other.
  - But it is a "welcome"-not content on skill building-so my expectation is to be welcomed.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Lunch conversation good. Good that most comments were brief.
  - Lively and exiting opening/stage setting.
  - No Hartford foundation representation at CGNE administrators meeting.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Acknowledgement by/of various groups is necessary and was done well. The frame for the importance/meaningfulness of the entire conference could have been strengthened.
  - Set the stage.

A2. "Orchestrating a Research Career" (McBride)

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Great presenter. Everyone, at all levels, gets something out of this talk.
  - Great way to frame a professional career discussion.
  - I have three comments for Angela Baron McBride that relate also to the Conference as a whole. First, ABM and most of the speakers need to rethink their use of PowerPoint. Wordy bullets on repetitive points, i.e. background that lacks graphic punch makes for an uninviting presentation. Second I would encourage this session be made less exclusive, less academic, and more inclusive of people in MSN and MBA programs. Third, conversations about careers should be just that-didactic offer only basics.

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- Dr. McBride's presentation could have been 2 separate sessions. Orchestrating a research career. Evolving a professional career in general.

A2. Poster Set-up and Communications Consultation (Beilenson)

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Very helpful feedback from JB. I enjoyed his suggestions and appreciated his tactfulness.

A3. Panel I: “Interdisciplinary Collaboration” (Dunbar-Jacob, Fulmer, Grey, Hill)

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Excellent.
- They did an excellent job.
- All of the interdisciplinary collaboration focused on roles within professional organizations. More variety of interdisciplinary collaboration would have been useful.
- Two things stand out in their sessions that pose large concerns for me. First, the panel shaped all their remarks around organizational involvement. This was not the focus implied by the talk and left me wanting more than nurses shaping their involvement, i.e. consideration of physician involvement. Second, I am confused about how we aptly explore trans-disciplinary work with a panel composed exclusively of nurses. This reinforces our unfortunate tendency to think about how to put nurses first.
- To build the bridge from where I think the Scholars are to interdisciplinary collaboration at the professional. Assoc. Level-I think it would be helpful to a) include how to build on interdisciplinary research. B) the skills needed to move back and forth from leader of a team to leading as a team member.
- The lack of questions after the session may be reflective of the perception that these leaders' lives and accomplishments were so far from where the Scholars are that they were intimidating, "ideal" and not real-yet.
- Panel may have been "too excellent"- "too accomplished" to have immediate relevance to pre-doc Scholars. Some more emphasis/info on how young Scholars can begin to move in the direction of those accomplished leaders might have been more useful.
- I would have appreciated a bit more information on the "Human side" of this process of "rising to the top" in organizations. How does one balance other career goals (tenure) and a balanced lifestyle (family, healthy life style, exercise, etc) with being ever "available" for interdisciplinary opportunities?

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Presenters provided a wonderful overview of the challenges of conducting multi-disciplinary research-would be useful to offer a session to Scholars next year on practice guides on forming selection of a research team.
- As an opening session-it was perhaps overwhelming to think Scholars might have questions at this point-what is there to question about people or the top of their game? For the most part-how do I get there? Claire provided a wonderful opening; Martha Hill superb.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- I always find it useful to hear the success stories, both inspiring and as a template. I was wondering for the beginners if the attitude of the presenters may be too daunting. Maybe one example that is just a little ahead of most Scholars, but on an early promising trajectory, may be useful.

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- T. Fulmer, Margaret Grey and Martha Hill's comments were excellent and very helpful! Mathy Mezey's comment on asking questions should be part of program content.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

- Interdisciplinary needs broader application than one or two health related professions.

A4. Poster Presentations and Reception (Class of 2002)

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Nice arrangement of room to facilitate posters and networking.
  - The best opportunity for interaction of Scholars with mentors from institutions other than their own. Very nice.
  - Nice networking event.
  - As a mentor I enjoy seeing student progress and the range of issues HGNI Scholars are addressing.
  - Seems to me this could be combined with communication consultant session. The two sessions seemed redundant.
  - Consider having Hartford Scholars (second year) present their info to the group. Posters were very uneven in their quality.
  - I was told by my mentee that this session was poorly organized.-that the poster critique was helpful but would have been good if the consultant had called the Scholars together-after configuring posters individually-to give tips on poster development used Scholars' posters for examples.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- This is an excellent session for Scholars, seeing where the science is going, and evaluating the depth and quality of the Scholars.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- For the networking.
  - Attend to support fellows who have posters.
  - Excellent for Scholars to share research.

Speaker

- This year, I transitioned from mentee to (somewhat) mentor. I liked being able to link names, faces, and research interests. I located Scholars whose work complements mine. I hope to work with these individuals in the future.

A5. Panel II: "The Shaping of Policy" (Gruman, Morse, Scanlon, Wakefield)

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Dr. Gruman and Mr. Morse are fabulous speakers-sophisticated, targeted, available, and articulate. Bring on more fours of this caliber from outside nursing and outside health care.
  - More focus on policy at multiple levels-state, national, and local (perhaps health system level).
  - Case studies in influencing policy across levels of case- i.e. micro->macro from clinical->organize->state->federal. B) concrete examples of translating Scholar findings into policy. Communication->re: something like LDI issue briefs.
  - This needs to be fraught with messages of various ways (stroke, aging communities) how Scholars can influence policy.
  - I was disappointed that the ways we do things wrong were discussed, but there were not more specifics about useful skills and strategies.
  - Gilman pointed out all the problems-with no suggestions-for beginning Scholars this was perhaps not helpful. The speakers contradicted each other-it would have been helpful if after their presentations, they resolved these contradictions.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Panel provided an exceptional overview with practical skill set which seeks to enable research Scholars-begin the developmental steps to enter the world of health policy.
- Especially useful reminding nurses that their problem solving skill (nursing problem) is transferable as with other skills. Learn about other discipline and talk/network and others more.
- Excellent session and speakers-sparked a lot of interest. Number of questions needed to be limited-and enthusiasm. Also good to have a diverse panel in terms of discipline/experience.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Wakefield is superb!
- The panel was excellent. Better clarity in the instructions to small groups would have been helpful. The moderator was the weakest link. It was a poor decision for her to shut down questions with only one person in line.
- Excellent panel.
- More examples. The strategy of using a story to influence politicians is something a novice can do successfully.

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- All three panel members were excellent and had wonderful advice! Allowing everyone to present their questions was very "good practice" but having time to answer more of the questions would have been helpful. Maybe posting summarized answers on the web would be useful.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

- Could be a little more focused to gerontology issues mostly broad a good update on where we are in policy and key issues right now and what's working now and not working now on that issue.

Speaker

- It may be helpful to develop an "odd-year curricula" and an "even year curricula" so that sessions do not become repetitive. Wakefield was the best speaker.

A6. Panel III: "Hope, Optimism, and Resilience: The Move to Positive Organizing Frameworks" (Dufault, Levy, Perls, Seeland)

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Some new and creative information.
- Nice blend of different presenters and different foci.
- Extremely worthwhile session.
- I found this panel Scholarly diverse, and thought provoking. Dr. Levy and Dr. Perls were both delightful, well spoken, and provocative. In panel 2 and 3 I would like to caution you against trying to achieve small group work in a large session setting in both panels, the end result was something of a "question zoo" 5 real dialogue or substantive discourse. It is really awful and unfair to the speakers.
- Would have liked to hear more from people like Dufault like how she has bridged her beliefs and concepts with her administrative role.
- Interesting-not sure if message of how this fits with leadership Conference there was articulated.
- A "topical" session such as this is not helpful-last year's program was much stronger in that it focused more completely on fostering leadership rather than on "researchable constricts".

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Fabulous-much food for thought-great to see a panel of MD, RN, psychiatrist AMD psychologist, all complementary and informative. If this question style is to continue-it needs to be managed better. I.e. allowing 8-15 people get up, simply state their question and sit down. Time frame did not work for this. (ditto for previous session)

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- An absolute necessity for helping to arm gerontology nurses with the "antidote" to aging, the real antidote: hope and positive thinking, good health behaviors and, if you're lucky, genes. I do suggest that both this session and the prior one be reconsidered in terms of how the audience's role is structured.
- Lots of questions-not enough time for answers.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

Must be a variable in every type of intervention.

Speaker

- The content needed to be more gerontology-focused.

---

A7. Concurrent Sessions: Maximizing Hartford Opportunities (Brittis, Fagin, Franklin, Jablonski)

---

Speaker

- Perhaps the upcoming Scholars should be presented with questions for thought as preparation?

---

A7. Concurrent Sessions: Getting the Most Out of Your Master's Program (Foreman, Sullivan-Marx)

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- Nice to hear the stories of the AACN Scholars-would like to hear more next year and focus on alternate conversation/session relating to student topics. More on tips to succeed in master program.
- The discussion time was very helpful. Session on "best practices" would have been very helpful to APN Scholars as well!

A7. Concurrent Sessions: What Do We Know That Is Ready For Practice (Beverly, Strumpf)

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- If the session were structured differently. Content from Strumpf was too global to be helpful-would have liked more specifics or successful models for developing and implementing best practices.
- Speakers very capable and distinguished but session seemed disorganized, not well orchestrated.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Research translation is the single most proactive activity to advance nursing science. - and impact quality of patient care- seminar provided "how to info" and lessons learned- to develop a professional skill set for translation activities.
- Good opportunity for Scholar to see problems of employing implementing research info practice-success and failure because can learn few failures or set backs or good for Beverly to share her set back.
- Co-led the session-I hope it was well received.

A8. The Mary Starke Harper Distinguished Lectureship-Florence Wald, RN, FAAN

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Outstanding.
- Wonderfully inspiring and great that you documented this incredible Scholar.
- I loved it. I can't get over how many leaders in nursing have been influenced by it.
- Fabulous! Very inspiring and very important for next generations to know the history. It was an honor to hear Florence Wald and Angela Barron. McBride did a wonderful job. This is definitely a highlight of the Conference.
- Great idea.
- This session was truly lovely. I enjoyed Mrs. Wald's reminiscence immensely. However, I did think it a bit longer than necessary. I sensed Mrs. Wald's and the audience's fatigue.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Excellent!!!
- Too long.
- Great way to do this as interview!
- Fabulous-inspirational; a high point-will cherish memory for years to come.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Provides a sense of history and how it affects the present and future.
- A true leader-look at history as a guide to future.

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- Session was a little long.

Speaker

- Who were the "founders" of the GNP movement? I can think of plenty of my gerontology heroes, but they may not meet the criteria. Perhaps folds involved with early GNP programs would be good choices for next year.

A9. Panel IV: "The Economics of Care Giving" (Archbold, Jones, Kayser-Jones, Maas)

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Best session of Conference.
- I enjoyed this panel, Dr. Archbold's and Dr. Kayser-Jones' reinterpretation of their data was provocative, grounded and illuminating. Elizabeth Miller was an outstanding moderator. Her strategy to type the questions from the audience into PowerPoint and her engagement in the dialogue, i.e. questions was very sophisticated.
- Particularly interested in Dr. Archbold's careful consideration of economic variable. It would have been helpful to me to see integration of background material from the policy work on cost/benefit and economic methods applied to social health problems in the session.
- For beginning Scholars this session may have been quite far removed from where they are. The discussion and questions brought it closer.
- Need some non-nursing presenters on this topic.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Economic modeling in nursing research is critical.
- Weakest session. Please include one of the nurse-friendly health care economists next time. Much of the presentation was mediocre at best.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- This is so important-really need more on health service research. Might be a good idea to have health economists.
- Need to increase info about how to measure costs and projects in development of new products.

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- Dr. Lynette Jones and Dr. Jeanie Kayser-Jones were excellent and presented useful info and thought provoking examples. Dr. Archbold is too soft spoken, unable to hear her.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

- Excellent.

A10. Endnotes: Reflections on Leadership (Bolton)

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Be cautious about the danger of over-scheduling when planning a meeting like this one. I think information overload detracts from what one can retain after an overscheduled meeting. This morning's activities were densely packed in at the very end of an intense conference. Dr. Bolton is a fabulous extemporaneous speaker-her command of leadership and her ability to weave themes together was inspiring. But should try speaking with slides more often.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Nice summary of themes heard-from a leader truly in the trenches of healthcare delivery.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Wonderful job-put it all together.

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- Dr. Bolton is very inspirational and an excellent speaker!

B10a. How Conference Information Will be Used to Increase Leadership Skills

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Examples for students. Networks built or strengthened.
- The Thursday panels' audience participation was not effective-allowing panel to answer each question is more meaningful. Also, having speakers during the luncheons limits networking and is awkward/noisy and possibly difficult for the speakers.
- Include health services variable in next proposal investigate the feasibility of studying costs of human suffering use principles described in improving public speaking.
- Getting more involved in national interdisciplinary organizations in leadership roles. Paying more attention to policy implications of research. Working on strategies for dissemination of research into clinical practice.
- I'll remember to answer questions and speak at conferences one at a time and provide links back to the questions explicit and implicit need. I'll remember to walk through even partially open doors as Florence Wald illustrated and as Claire Fagin paraphrased (Vartan Bregonian)? I'll use David Morse's question that the singular of data is anecdote and craft my stories even more carefully.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Increased knowledge of the field-provide resources in future work (contact people, references to research)
- To consider, again, how the matter of translation of research into practice, and policy, should be more integral to our training for pre and post docs.
- Need more opportunities for informal Q&A with panelist need to increase time for informal networking. Reduce total number of panel presentations-allow more time for networking opportunities.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Pull together academic/clinical leaders to examine "best practices" in a variety of settings. Organize this same group above to form some policy issues for which to advocate.
- To design new recruitment strategies for students/prospects. To design programs for elders on the community. To conceptualize new research direction.
- Include economic costs into research. Health policy is the responsibility of all. It requires a new way of forming and communicating ideas and persistence is related to success. Become a leader not only in nursing but also in other areas.

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- Presentation on public speaking-pointers given were good and will be used. Moving up in interdisciplinary organization-key suggestions will be used. Influencing health policy.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

- Achieved better sense of what other schools doing in gerontology through networking so I can head others in the curriculum. Enrichment needed when get home connected with sources for Scholars to become leaders. Find information needed.

B10b. Helpful Sessions that Were Not Included

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Yes-issues of policy development -resource sharing among programs/centers -synergies in knowledge summarization/prep for diffusion.
- I support an opportunity for mentors and Scholars from different locations to sit together at round table following a panel discussion. Each group would be charge to develop a question (and perhaps an answer) to share with the larger group. A Scholar from each group could have the opportunity to go to the microphone and present the question.
- I think that media training should be included-not just a large group, general session as was done in 2002, but break the group into small groups after a large group session. Then work with the Scholars in small groups to help them frame their messages effectively and practice being interviewed. Suggest a concurrent session on access and use of large databases.
- It would be useful to have a session on balancing teaching, research, and practice in faculty roles.
- Made comments throughout.
- Need follow-up for questions to panel that there was not time to address. After Mathy's comment, people responded, but their good questions (many) were left unanswered. A mechanism to disseminate answer would be great.
- I found that the format of the panel presentations troubling. The format offered little space and far too little time for real dialogue. And, while I endorse Mathy Mezey's comment that more people need to see the audience role as an active one. I think that encouraging students at this level to image above substance. Please rethink the questioning element of this panel.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- The Conference was excellent-ideas for future conferences; 1) more of the practicalities of building programs of research and interdisciplinary teams. 2) More of the practicalities on how to be an agent of change-from the professor involvement in org. And consumer GPS to broader state and federal initiatives-3) at some point-a program our MBA Scholar graduates.4) becoming a mentor to others-styles, strategies-all could benefit as we expect all our Scholars to become mentors where their careers take them.
- Grantsmanship formulation of a research agenda –funder panel and what NIH/foundations look for in research proposals.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Using technology to lead and promote geriatric nursing. Instructional approach in implementing evidence based practice guidelines.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

- Topic groups by methods or subjects.

C10a. Information Used from 2002 Leadership Conference

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Distributed handouts to faculty colleagues.
- Integrated some of the messages into my courses. Altered my student advising-it was greatly enriched.
- Poster design was changed based on feedback from JB last year. Importance of networking at the Conference and networking this year. The information on conference that is available on website is helpful in preparing for conference (referencing names and pictures)-it would be better to have a picture of every attendee.
- I thought about leadership (as opposed to just a research career) when considering career opportunities. I begin thinking about pursuing more leadership roles. I thought about (I worked towards successfully accomplishing) successful mentoring of pre-doc Scholars. Focusing on helping them to achieve products and leadership opportunities-and the necessary skills to achieve leadership in their careers.
- Use the info in bringing discussions to a higher level (big picture) mentoring skills development
- Bought Suzanne Gordon's book, read it and talked to NSY students about communicating to the media.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Engagement of JAH Scholars assisted in expanding knowledge to guide support provided to promote leadership skill sets. Administrators presented opportunities to benefit from infrastructure lessons learned- and promote synergy.
- Hard to say-probably did, but not direct.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Established local Leadership Conference in geriatric nursing.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

- Contacts for curriculum development for our Scholars and identifying leaders in this area. Will be enriching both our gerontology tracks and entire curriculum based on areas addressed-even more richness from this year to enhance it.

Speaker

- Submitted a GSA symposium proposal and other pre-docs not accepted.

C10b. Synergistic Relationships/Collaborations Resulting from 2002 Leadership Conference

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Joint authorizing of a publication (book) requests for collaboration joint authorship (article).
- Was invited to write several articles by HGNI colleagues. Was referred for several presentations and expert panels by HGNI colleagues. I was able to consult with several HGNI colleagues about several career and leadership issues.
- Outgoing discussions with a Scholar who is testing an intervention that I am also testing.
- Scholars had more opportunities to meet and talk with the national leaders.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Our Scholar converted with "other" Scholars having similar research interest.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Began dialogue concerning collaborative gero psych offering. Expanding collaborations with local schools of nursing around geriatric nursing education.
- New collaborative initiatives. New colleagues that became part of my professional network.
- Work with other investment school coordinators. Work with AACN on gerontology master's competences.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

- It is much clearer who are the schools. Much better able to not work after initial identification of key people between this year and last years conference. Excellent conversations with many with CNS/NP and other advanced role.

Speaker

- Submitted a GSA symposium proposal and other pre-docs not accepted.

D10a. Ideas for Other Living Legends

---

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Priscilla Ebersole
- Geraldine Fulton.
- Imogene King.
- I think Susan Gontner would be a speaker of exceptional quality with knowledge that compliments geriatric nursing.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- Butler.
- Motivational speaker-someone to motivate us "personally"--"self help"- "stress management".
- We might want to consider Margaret Williams, retired from University of Wisconsin and Madison, for her pioneering work on confusion in the elderly (in the 1970's).

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- Jeanne Quaint Binomial-her work is in transitional NSG, care at end of life, cancer in elderly.
- Thelma Wells.

Speaker

- Any GNP living legends?

D10b. Feedback for 2003 Leadership Conference

Mentor of Hartford Scholar

- Thanks for the wonderful food and pleasant accommodations. Timing of events was good-didn't start too early or go too late. Networking opportunities were great.
- It has been a great opportunity to participate as a mentor who is not mainstream gerontology. You are making a huge difference in this area. Just fabulous. It is just great that you have funded my Scholar who is interested in critically ill older adults-as a secondary gain-I as a mentor am pushing more aggressively into researching injured older adults!
- Excellent conference. Always motivating and engaging.
- I urge you to consider how to engage the Scholars in sessions that foster their analytic skills in relation to leadership and to consider, in detail, their constituencies. Talk of being a leader is rather irrelevant without specification and continued reflection on what it means to lead and whom you are leading.
- Water should have been available in the sessions on the tables.
- There is little to no "down" time. Please build in legitimate breaks. 30-45 minutes is necessary once a day. A networking luncheon is not a break. Continuous programming from 8 am to 7 pm is too much. Rooms were cold. The home page for the JAH website is attractive but it is difficult to navigate to the "capacity" site. Finding the information on the Conference was difficult.
- This year the meeting did not have the "charisma"-the high-powered inspiration of the 2002 meeting. There seemed to be less clarity as to who would/should attend which concurrent session, and having speakers during which limited networking. There should be more opportunities for Scholars to participate.

HCGNE Director/Faculty/Staff

- A fabulous conference-I heard only positives from attendees, most especially Scholars, for whom, of course, it is designed.
- Be useful to include in this tool a brief summary of previous panel topic to trigger thought.
- Motivational speaker-someone to motivate us "personally"--"self help"- "stress management" at least one outside motivational speaker.
- Too many 'develop questions" in the next 10 minutes. What was the point since they weren't addressed?
- No speakers at luncheon so networking can be done. One day set up tables for different groups-pre doc, post doc, project administration.

Investment Program Director/Faculty Staff

- More time to answer question-especially since we encourage Scholars to ask them.
- Cut back on the lunch time speakers-with all the lunch noise, it is disrespectful to the speakers and it limits networking at the tables.
- Overall I did not find the types of discussion used in small groups to be that useful.

AACN/AAN/NYU Director/Staff

- Evaluation too long and time consuming, also tool and responses are not anonymous because of #30.

AACN Graduate Curriculum Director/Staff

- Enjoyed immensely appreciated time for networking, lack of evening meetings for more time to reflect great accommodations.
